PRESSURE FROM OTHER NEUTRALS BACKS UNITED STATES

ITALY TODAY REPORTED DRAFTING ULTIMATUM TO AUSTRIAN EMPEROR

COUNTRY IN ARMS AWAITING WORD TO LAUNCH ITS BLOW

Accepted as Question of Two Days at Outside Before War Is Declared

LAST OF TEUTONS LEAVE COUNTRY

Streets Are Crowded and Soldiers Cheered but the Throats on Whole Are Restrained

ROME, May 18.—Italy today was in arms and ready to strike. The whole country was awaiting word from the government offices where Premier Salandra sat in conference with the ministers. That the ultimate decision will be a declaration of war against Austria the public no longer doubts, but it was reported that the government will delay taking any decisive steps until parliament convenes on Thursday.

Drafting Ultimatum?
One rumor that gained wide circulation today said that the ministry was engaged in drafting an ultimatum to Austria. This ultimatum, it was said, would give Franz Josef but a few hours in which to yield to Italy's territorial demands or reject them and precipitate an immediate declaration of war.

The last of the Austrians and Germans in Rome, except those detained by urgent business, left the capital for the Swiss and Austrian borders today. Their presence at the railway stations attracted curious crowds, but there was no repetition of the hostile demonstrations of a few days ago. The streets were crowded today, the military were cheered at every appearance, but on the whole the spirit of the throngs that assembled near the chambers of deputies building and the other government offices was one of restraint.

Other Rome newspapers today followed the leadership of the Giornale d'Italia and cautioned the people against hostile demonstrations against Germans and Austrians when Italy's expected declaration is made.

Von Buelow to Leave
A report gained circulation here today that Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador, was preparing to leave the city this afternoon, being convinced that Italy was about to break relations with Germany.

Italian Envoy Sees Bryan
WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Italian ambassador had a long conference with Secretary Bryan today, presumably relative to American diplomatic representations of his country with the Teutonic allies should Italy enter the war.

Riots in Trieste
VENICE, May 18.—Hundreds of persons have been killed and wounded in a new insurrection in Trieste, according to fugitives arriving here today. Two powder magazines were blown up and the insurrectionists attempted to burn the palace and government buildings. The commandant is reported to have threatened to take the Austrian fleet command Trieste.

FABLE OF THE PERFECT PEACH THE KIND JUDGE AND THE PRISON WHAT AIN'T

JANESVILLE, Wis., May 18.—This is the Fable of the Perfect Peach, the Kindly Judge and the Prison What Aint. The Peach had an abundance of Names. Her most frequent monicker was Agnes Bumgart, but she wrote it Anna Smith. Her Personal Occupation was Society and Penmanship. Her Chirography was a Thing of Beauty and a Joy forever. She Often Practiced it on Checks of Various Amounts.

It was on the Fateful Day of May 7th that the Peach inscribed her Flowing Signature to a Check calling for 10 Iron Beys. It was a Mere Oversight on her part that she had no Bank Account to make it Good. But the Law spelled it F-o-r-g-e-r-y, and She was cast into the Donjon Keep of the Local Hoosegow.

In the presence of Judge Maxfield, the Peach was seized with an attack of Honesty and said, "I done it." The Kindly Judge took Pity on her Youth and Beauty and consigned her to the State Prison at Waupun for One Year.

Meanwhile the Peach had cast the Spell of her Beauty upon the Officers of the Court and because her Cell in the Hoosegow did not match her Costume, she was permitted to roam in comparative Liberty. She was made much of by the Young Women of the City and entertained Lavishly. This and a Romantic Love Affair she had hinted at, led the Kindly Judge to decide her Complexion would be ruined by the Prison Pallor.

Casting about for a Suitable Abode for the Peach, the Kindly Judge discovered in the Revised Statutes of Wisconsin a provision for "The Wisconsin Industrial Home for Women," enacted by the Legislature of 1913. Summoning the Peach before him, the Kindly Judge, with a Severe Smile, commuted her sentence to that institution.

In company with former Sheriff Whipple, the Peach journeyed in a luxurious Gas Chariot to Milwaukee, where the institution was supposed to Exist. The Party was Doomed to Disappointment. Although they were aided by the 1914 City Directory and the Best Fly Cops the Municipality could Afford, they could find no trace of the elusive Prison. Wending their Way back to this place, they received the belated information that the Site of the Prison had been transferred to Fond du Lac, but that it still consisted of Blue Prints and Expectations.

Meanwhile, the Police of Waukesha, Kenosha, Madison, Racine, Oshkosh, Chicago, Seattle and Portland, Ore., notified the local constabulary that they longed to contribute to the Peach's entertainment for Periods of varying length. Armed with proper credentials and a humble Mien the District Attorney Trekled to Madison today to ask the legislature to please make Haste and Erect the Peach's future home.

Moral: Be Sure You Are Right, and Then Verify It.

ROBS HOUSEWIFE AT GUN'S POINT

Mrs. Peter Dabroski Held Up in Her Kitchen While Gunman Seizes Purse with $15

EIGHTH ROBBERY SINCE FRIDAY

Police Have Several Suspects in Connection with Dabroski and Haniff Robberies

Eighth in the list of robberies reported to the La Crosse police since Friday occurred at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, when Mrs. Peter Dabroski looked up from her work in the kitchen of her home, 426 Caladonia street, and found herself staring into the business end of a revolver presented by a man who had just stepped through the kitchen door. Elevating her hands as ordered, Mrs. Dabroski watched the man take a purse containing $15 from the table and back out the door. As he dashed from the yard the housewife called the police.

Several suspects were picked up by the police last night. Some were later released, but the rest are being held on suspicion of connection with the Dabroski robbery, the Haniff burglary Sunday night, or one of the six cases of breaking and entering which occurred Friday night in the residence district of the south side.

NO PLOT, SAYS JUDGE

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Without forecasting his decision on the major issues involved, Judge McCoy, presiding at the Riggs National Bank hearing, remarked today that he had heard nothing thus far to suggest a conspiracy between Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams against the bank.

WHO'S SELF-APPOINTED CENSOR OR ART LOVER WHO STEALS NUDES FROM LIBRARY ART MAGAZINES?

Who is the self-appointed censor, art lover or degenerate who cuts the nudes from pictures in art magazines at the library?

Since at least as far back as last October, nudes have been cut or torn from the pages of the "International Studio" by some unknown vandal, who must by this time have an extensive collection of reproductions from photographs and paintings of beauty unadorned. Watch has been set at the library to detect the unauthorized collector, but without result—and each new issue of the "Studio" is mutilated within a few days of its appearance on the reading table.

The unknown pays most of his attention to nude photographs. He is but little interested in reproductions of paintings. So far as can be learned only two engravings from paintings have been removed in the last six months—a nude in "Tribute to Beauty," by Francis C. Jones in the current number of the "Studio," and a reproduction of an Australian painter's work in the September, 1914, issue. The name and title of the Australian's picture were slashed out with the engraving.

For the most part, however, toll has been levied on a series of advertisements by a Boston concern which poses life study photographs for the use of painters. Half-tone reproductions of their work illustrate their advertisements. In the October, November, December, January, February, March and April numbers of the "Studio," this company's advertisement has been mutilated.

In the January, 1915, number, there is an engraving of a bronze group, "La Danse," by Victor Rousseau. In it a half-draped figure has been strangely mutilated.

The pictures are torn or cut from the pages, generally slashed out with a dull pen-knife.

U. S. NAVY SHIP FOR SHIP EQUAL TO ANY SAYS ESCH

Uncle Sam Fully Prepared for Any Eventuality on the Sea with Second Largest Navy

"The United States is today prepared for war—on the sea. Its land defenses are deplorably weak."

"The United States now has the largest and strongest equipped navy in its history, and probably the largest fleet—with one exception—in the world."

"A lesson should be taught the calamity howler." — Congressman John J. Esch.
"I do not think the United States will receive a favorable reply from Germany," said Congressman Esch, "but I do not think we will have war with any nation."

"We do not want war, but we must be prepared for it," he said.

Second Greatest Navy
"While the American people have looked across the ocean at the navies of the greater powers of Europe, and have even boasted of the navy of the Japanese, our own country has been forging to the front with what is now thought to be the second greatest navy in the world."

"England had the strongest navy in existence at the beginning of the European war—and she still has—and Germany's floating armament was far superior to ours, but unless Germany has replaced ships which have been destroyed by her enemies, and it is very doubtful that she has, the United States has passed her by and now is next to England."

"The amount of the navy appropriation bill of congress during the present fiscal year, is $150,000,000, and is only $1,000,000 less than the estimate of the secretary of the treasury. It is the largest appropriation bill ever made by us in a time of peace."

"The navy of the United States can compete—vessel for vessel—with any navy in the world."

Congress Put, up Money
"In the naval appropriation bill of March 3, 1915, congress authorized the building of two first-class battleships, which will carry as perfect armament as any vessel of her class."

"With high speed and a great radius of action, the ships are to cost not more than $7,800,000 each, exclusive of armor and armament. Together they will represent the sum of approximately $30,000,000."

Submarines are Provided
"The United States has come to the place where she realizes the value of the submarine in warfare and as a means of maintaining peace through proper equipment to face an emergency. Not stopping at the appropriation for the two battleships, congress recently authorized the building of two sea going submarines at a cost of $1,500,000 each, and capable of traveling at a rate of twenty-five knots an hour, or about thirty miles an hour. The United States is also to have sixteen submarines to cost $550,000 each, exclusive of armament."

"Congress has been influenced by the wonderful success of the submarine in the present war, and it realizes that they are big factors in both defensive and offensive warfare. The two larger submarines will be the greatest vessels of their kind in the world. They will be able to maintain a tremendous rate of speed under the surface."

REVIEW ENDS AS WAR DOGS MAKE FOR OPEN WATER

Fleet Parades Past President on Way to Sea for Annual War Game Off Harbor

NEW YORK, May 18.—Amid the smoke and roar of the presidential salute of twenty-one guns from each vessel as she steamed past the presidential yacht Mayflower, on which President Wilson and his cabinet watched their departure, the Atlantic fleet passed down the harbor this afternoon and out to sea for the annual war game—this year a theoretical attack and defense of New York harbor from the sea.

The departure of the fleet was the final and most spectacular event of the review. A perfect spring day added to the inspiring spectacle. Brilliant rays of the sun swept away the banks of rain and mist which marred the pageant yesterday.

The statue of Liberty, and lower harbor were the scenes of the farewell to the armada. Because of the tide a later start was made than scheduled.

Weigh Anchor at 10:30
The "weigh anchor" was set for 10:30, with the review by the president on the Mayflower off the statue of Liberty, scheduled an hour later.

The huge grey dreadnaughts were stripped this morning of their gay streamers of pennants. Boatswains were busy rounding up stragglers overlying shore leaves. Donkey engines puffed and screeched as they swung launches and fenders on board.

BROTHER FINDS "BOBBY HOOKS" AND HE MAY NOT HAVE TO STAY AGAINST HIS WILL AT POOR FARM

"Bobby Hooks," feeble, half-paralyzed and "broke," was committed to the poor farm by County Judge John Brindley yesterday afternoon. This morning he was back on Third street, his pocket full of the posies which have been his livelihood for years, and crying like a child as he pleaded with Sheriff Ritter not to take him back to the poor farm from which he had shuffled with infinite toil to resume his wonted work.

The sheriff was firm, but a letter which Poor Commissioner Sol Burdick found today from a wealthy brother of "Bobby's"—his real name is Atlas Lincoln—may solve his problem. Francis Lincoln, the brother, is a well-to-do oil man in Reno, Nev., and he wants "Bobby," whose armless figure has been a familiar sight in La Crosse for years, to come and end his days in the west.

"Bobby" never got the letter. It came to him at the Boycott hotel after the authorities had decided that the only place for him, in his enfeebled condition, was the poor farm. So the hotel owners turned it over to Burdick, and Burdick intends to write to Francis Lincoln, telling him of his brother's plight. And probably the brother will come and take "Bobby" to his home.

"Atlas," his letter read, "I have been trying to find you for years. I have written letter after letter to different parties, and each of them have written me in return that they never heard of you. I have often thought of you, and have wondered what had become of you."

"Brother, I am thirty-two years old now, and you must be at least twenty years older than I am. You do not know how I would like to see you. Your brother Louis is in Alaska. I hear from him frequently."

"I want you to come out west. You can visit the exposition at San Francisco with me, and you will never return to La Crosse if you do. Come back to Nevada with me and make your home at Reno."

"I have a few hundred dollars that are not working, and if you have not the funds at present, I will send you enough for the trip."

GERMAN BREAK WITH AMERICA MAY MEAN RUPTURE WITH OTHERS

Amsterdam Rumor Says Kaiser Will Not Grant U. S. Demand—Italian Crisis Precedes U. S. Demand in German Interest

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Pressure from other neutral nations is the trump card which the United States has played in an attempt to force Germany to accept her position regarding submarine warfare.

It was learned today that copies of the president's demands on Germany were placed at the disposal of all neutrals whose citizens were lost on the Lusitania. It is reported that they have endorsed the issues raised and that this was what President Wilson had in mind when he declared in his speech in New York yesterday that "we ask only what we have a right to ask for humanity."

The United States refuses to believe that the German empire wants to break with all of the remaining neutral nations. Yet, if she declines to accept the position of the United States, as cited by President Wilson, it is held that she defies all of them who believe, as the United States, does that their subjects have the right to go where their business calls them in full confidence that their government will protect them.

Secretary Bryan said today that he had received a number of messages from Ambassador Gerard since the latter served a copy of President Wilson's note on the German foreign minister, but he refused to make public what they contained.

Two significant callers at the state department today were Dutch Minister Van Rappard and Italian Ambassador di Cellerio. Neither would discuss the object of his visit but both Italian and Dutch citizens met death when the Lusitania went to the bottom.

KEELER PAYS $1 IN LIBEL SUIT OF ALFRED L. MORSE

Jury Finds This Extent of Damages Done by Pamphlet in M. W. A. Insurance War

Rev. Alfred Leslie Morse, former Needah, Wis., Congregational minister, and divorced husband, was damaged to the extent of $1 by Benjamin Keeler, state deputy of the Modern Woodmen of America by a pamphlet which Keeler distributed entitled "Who's Who and Why, or the Pedigree of Alfred Leslie Morse, M. S.," according to a circuit court jury this morning.

Keeler paid this amount to Morse in circuit court this morning following the announcement of the verdict. Keeler was also assessed $1 court costs. The balance of the costs are to be paid by Morse.

The case was the longest of the present term, and the jury was out for more than fifteen hours.

The "Who's Who" pamphlet, it was shown in the trial, was printed by head officers of the insurance company and distributed to heads of camps by Mr. Keeler. It had to do, mostly, with divorce proceedings of Morse against his wife, after she had left him, because, she said, her husband failed to support her.

CROSSES CONTINENT IN 11 DAYS

NEW YORK, May 18.—Smashing all records for trans-continental auto trips, E. G. Baker arrived here today from San Diego, Cal. He made the trip in eleven days, seven hours and fifteen minutes, driving the car the entire route himself.

AMSTERDAM, May 18.—Germany's answer to the American note will be forwarded to Washington on Thursday, according to the best information obtainable here today from Berlin sources, and it is reported that the kaiser will refuse to yield to President Wilson's request that Germany change her policy of submarine warfare.

The German reply will be most politely worded. But it will declare that Germany must continue her submarine warfare and will express the hope that America will not fail to understand that the German government owes it to the people of the Fatherland to combat the enemy with all the weapons at her command.

The sinking of the Lusitania will not be disavowed. Germany will throw full responsibility for the heavy loss of life upon England and upon the American authorities who permitted Americans to go aboard a vessel, knowing she was laden with explosives. The German answer will quote from the German admiralty's official statement that only one torpedo was shot against the liner, and that the explosion of her ammunition cargo caused her to founder at once.

Italian Crisis Takes Precedence
BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, via The Hague, May 17.—There is a possibility that Germany's reply to the Bryan note will not be made this week. The admitted serious Italian situation has served to focus both official and popular attention in that quarter to such a degree that the American situation has become a matter of secondary consideration.

At the foreign office today it was stated that the matter is at the present time in the hands of Bethman-Hollweg for consideration, and that the original draft of the reply, which will undoubtedly be edited by the kaiser himself, will be prepared by the chancellor. So far as can be learned, even the tentative draft of a reply has not been framed and the only official word given out is that the attitude and general nature of Germany's reply has not yet been determined.

Pending the drafting of a reply the opinion prevails here that there will be a lull in submarine activities—at least so far as larger ships are concerned.

Press is Silent

That the German government is preparing to handle the incident with extreme care is evidenced by the attitude of the press. While the unofficial version of what the Bryan note would probably contain was commented on at length, the press has been singularly silent since the receipt by the foreign office of the actual text of the document.

The official text has not yet been made public and the government suggestion that comment be withheld until the text is published is being generally observed. The nearest approach to a violation of the foreign office admonition was a mild editorial in today's Lokal Anzeiger, which concluded with the statement that Germany's answer, like that of President Wilson, will be as clear and positive as it is possible to make it, pointing out that "we must conduct the war as we have conducted it, and with a good conscience we can so conduct it."

MANY LAND PLOTS SOLD FOR TAXES

One hundred and twenty land descriptions in La Crosse county were today sold for taxes by Ole Lunde, county treasurer at his office in the court house this morning. Land went as low as 25 cents and for as much as $60. Only a few bought.

NEVER TARNISHESPerhaps you don't go to church frequently, and perhaps you do. If you are a regular attendant you may spend as many as three hours out of each week's 112 waking hours, in church. During the remaining 109 hours of the week you do a lot of things and go to many places.To how many places do you go in a week that you wish you had not visited? To how many places do you go upon leaving which you feel the worse for the visit?Did you EVER go to church and upon leaving regret the visit? Did you EVER feel the worse for having attended church?Why do we go least to the place where we never regret visiting or suffer loss because of the visit?TAKE THIS INSIDE TIPIt would be enlightening if somebody competent to answer the question would inform the public just where the assembly is at, in the matter of the physical education building at the La Crosse normal school.
It has voted twice each way on the subject and most of us are unable to say with assurance whether it will stand out for more than twenty-four hours, one way or the other.—Leaders Press.We are in a position to throw the glove down upon this subject, and hasten to enlighten our perplexed contempts. The reason that, having voted to save the La Crosse normal building by a large and enthusiastic majority, the assembly now reverses itself in a hurried hurry, is that Governor Philipp called assemblymen of professional obedience into his office and, perhaps he stood them up in a corner. At least, some of these scoundrels have explained their reversal of form in the athletic matter
by saying that his excellency insisted.
A contributing cause is that becauseof his zeal to beat other assembly-
men's appropriations, Assemblyman Kurtenacker is not a hot favorite in the betting when he leads his own appropriations up to the wire.For twenty years stalwart legislators tried to get a normal school for La Crosse—and failed. Then a progressive senator was elected, and he landed it in his first term. He secured additional appropriations for it as they were needed, assisted by progressive assemblymen, and the progressives left the assembly with this important appropriation passed and awaiting allotment. After many years a stalwart assemblyman is elected, and the normal appropriation is lost in the assembly.It looks rather dark, but there still is a chance. We call our sorrying contemporary's attention to the hopeful fact that La Crosse has a progressive senator. Smile, d—n you! Smile!HELP PAY THE FIDDLERAlderman Funk has succeeded in securing from the city council an appropriation to pay part of the expense of music in the public parks.
He expects to raise the remainder of the fund by popular subscription, and is calling upon citizens for that purpose.One cannot spend money to better purpose. Anything that brings people out into the air, that surrounds them with nature's attractiveness and arouses the esthetic side of human nature, is a builder of citizenship in the very best sense.La Crosse is a step in the rear in relation to this phase of community building, and it is interesting to observe that it may be about to catch up. We'll catch up faster when we realize the practical side of music and art. Mr. Funk will hardly be accused of foolish sentimentality. He is doing this because he comprehends
the substantial creative force of open air concerts. They get the people together, they fire the community spirit, they lift men and women and inspire them to honorable endeavor and noble living. They enlarge and vitalize patriotism, too—and that's worth while.We hope the checks will be waiting for Alderman Funk.NEITHER HASTY

Steady!

Soon, in a day or two, Germany's reply to President Wilson's note will arrive in Washington. Its interpretation is a delicate task, having an important bearing upon its reception and what shall follow.Let us not go ahead of the president. We expect him to be both fair and firm. He must interpret and prescribe. Draw no conclusions, await his word, which will be spoken in the light of knowledge which intimate study and experience of the whole situation makes peculiarly his.We are friends of the German government and of the German people.
That friendship, warm and genuine,
has long endured. It will not be broken off excepting as a last resort.
We should feel it in our hearts, nurse
it and covet its perpetuation more than ever in these trying moments of suspense.Speak no unkind word, entertain no hostile thought. Calmly, preparedly, await the nation's decision, ready to stand by it with generous courageous, exalted citizenship.

Steady!

Doing His Best

Mr. Barrington has a good anecdote about Sir W. S. Gilbert which shows the latter's fine gift of repatee. Gilbert was once introduced to a gushing American lady who professed to take a great interest in music. She seemed to have a very hazy idea about the great composers, however, and in the course of her remarks, she said: "I do so admire Mr. Bach's music. Can you tell me if he is now composing?"
"No, madam," said Gilbert; "he is decomposing."—Pearsons.Quips and Cranks

His One Great Asset

Of course, we can't all be geniuses,
and poor Bertie was one of those who simply couldn't. In his tender years he could not—try how he might—digest the rudiments of arithmetic, algebra, or composition,
etc.His father realized his son's falling, and to give him a chance he had him specially educated by a learned gentleman.Time passed until Bertie was now 21, and must face the world."I know my son is not particularly brilliant," he began, "but what do you think he could possibly follow in the way of a profession?""Hum!" the man of letters paused.
"Well, sir, after thinking it over, I should rather imagine that your son would be admirably suited
if he took moving pictures of a glacier!"—Answers.

An Intelligent Child

A large map was spread upon the wall and the teacher was instructing
the class in geography."Horace," said she to a small pupil, "when you stand in Europe facing the north you have on your right hand the great continent of Asia.
What have you on your left hand?""A wart," replied Horace, "but I can't help it, teacher."

The Other Fellow

A pretty young woman stepped into a music store the other day.
She tripped up to the counter where a new clerk was sorting music and in her sweetest tones asked "Have

A Second "Under Two Flags"

THE RED
MIRAGE

By L. A. R. WYLIE

Brahma, Etc."

She was silent. Her head with the white, hopelessly crooked wig was lifted defiantly, and a single tear had molded its channel through the deep layer of powder. And she had grown old—piteously old."O God, give him back to me!"
she prayed under her breath. "O God, hear me!"And whether she prayed for the dead or the living Gabrielle could not tell. She waited patiently. A little Arab boy, laden with the latest edition of the Journal l'Oran, darted in and out of the carelessly moving crowd. He was shouting something in shrill broken French, and the crowd swirled and eddied
like a stream caught by the sudden back-current. And then intuitively she knew that the answer was at hand—coming to them out of the southern darkness.In the courtyard of the hotel two more or less intoxicated pierrots danced a cancan to the delirious plaudits of an audience themselves overcome by the heat and passion
that hung heavy in the night air.
Sylvia Arnaud clapped her hands
like a child. The Jewish flower-seller offered her roses, and her companion bought a handful and poured them into her lap."They are not beautiful enough," he whispered hoarsely.The Jewess passed on. She did not offer her flowers further. She went out stealthily the way she had come.The noise of the dancing and music reached the lighted room that faced out on the avenue. From his place by the window Stephen Lowe could follow the passage of the little Arab boy through the slow-flowing tide of humanity, and the piercing, childish voice rose high above the subdued melody of sound. He seemed plunged in his own thoughts, and the man in evening dress who stood with his clenched hand on the table stamped impatiently.

"Are you listening, Mr. Lowe?"

"Yes, yes, I am listening. I heard everything you said. Sower was cassioned. I am not surprised. His profession was his tragedy. He would have made an admirable company promoter, but the task of being an honest gentleman was too much for him. You say he has committed suicide. That indeed surprises me. He was not built on those lines. Was there any pressing cause?""Debts and a public charge of high treason. After—after Farquhar disappeared he went from bad to worse. He couldn't keep up the pretense. It was as though a mantle had been ripped off his shoulders, so that the merest cub could see what he was and keep clear of him. He knew it, and tried to outdo himself.
It was, as you say, almost tragic.
Then came an ugly gambling story,
dismissal, and—there was worse to come. He put an end to it. It was the only way left.""Thanks. Knowing all I do, the story has a very dramatic aspect. It tempts one to believe in Providence.
Providence has indeed a decided tendency to reveal itself
through its unfortunate stepchildren. But I won't philosophize. Have you come all this way to tell me of poor Sower's more or less providential escape, Mr. Preston?"The young man crimsoned, but answered steadily.

"You were his friend."

"His partner, rather."

"So I supposed. You understood each other. There was that night when we discovered Captain Arnaud
had been tampering with Sower's plans. Do you remember?"

"I remember perfectly."

I have not had an hour's peace since then. He was my friend, and I knew him to be an honorable English gentleman, and I believed the worst of him. I acted—and thought afterward. I saw how mad and impossible it all was. I could not understand.
But I began to realize that there was something in that room that night
of which I knew nothing—an understanding between you, a compact
—and that I had been your catpaw.
I began to see that Farquhar had sacrificed himself—or been sacrificed—and that he was innocent. Since Sower's disgrace I have been certain. You knew that Farquhar had nothing to do with it."

"Yes, I knew."

And you let me bound him out—

you let me believe him?"

A faint ironical smile crept over Lowe's suffering features."I was Sower's partner," he said quietly. "You were Farquhar's friend.
You chose to act with us against him—of your own free will. Why should I have interfered? But you are right—though too late. There was a compact, an understanding.
The whole scene that night was a farce, a little play-acting with you as an unconscious actor. Sower had tempted Arnaud with his very worthless plans. Afterward, under pressure of ruin and disgrace, I should have extorted some interesting and valuable military facts—in those days Sower was conditionally patriotic—had not Farquhar intervened. He blundered recklessly, but he spoiled
our plans. Not that Sower objected.
He and Farquhar had an account to settle, and it was settled to Sower's satisfaction.""You scoundrel!" In the violence of his bitterness and anger Preston strode across the room, his clenched fist upraised as though to strike the elder man to the ground, but within a single pace he faltered and his arm sank. Lowe had not flinched."Yes, I am a scoundrel," he said simply; "but do not trouble to murder me. That would get you into difficulties, and it is not necessary."
He touched himself lightly on the chest. "I have something here which will finish me off in a month or two —less pleasantly than you would do.
That is why I care not at all how much or how little you know. The partnership is ended—and I am going out of business." He laughed sardonically and turned back to the window. The crowd beneath had broken up and fallen back on either side beneath the trees of the avenue,
and from the distance there sounded a dull rhythmic beat and the ominous rattle of drums. A group of dancers had strolled out and stood laughing and talking by the gateway—brilliant patches of color in a setting of darkest olive. Their voices rose on the still air—like themselves—light against shadow, froth
on the edge of a somber on-rolling
sea. "The Legion has returned,"
Lowe said quietly. "Do you want tosee the saddest sight on earth, Mr.
Preston?"The young man drew nearer, reluctant yet fascinated. His hands were no longer clenched. He was looking at the gaunt figure leaning negligently against the window-edge
as at something monstrous, incredible."Have you no conscience—no remorse?" he said."Oh, yes, Mr. Preston, a great deal.""Then pity my remorse. For God's sake—if you know—tell me whyFarquhar did that thing—help me to understand."The boyish passionate pleading caused Lowe to turn a moment. He smiled, and that faint glimmer of half-compassionate understanding was a light falling deep into a turbid stream—revealing many sunken, forgotten things.

MILWAUKEE FINDS IT NEEDS GRAVEL

Extensive work in the yards of the Milwaukee yards in Milwaukee has necessitated the hunting of suitable sand and gravel for the work. Six train crews will be assigned to the work of hauling the material, while two hundred laborers will be furnished with work for the summer.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

SECOND PORTUGAL REVOLT FOLLOWS CLOSE ON FIRST

New Revolutionary Premier Shot and Fatally Wounded While on Way to Take Office

DISPATCH CALLS AFFAIR CRITICAL

Revolutionary Committee Promises Prompt Execution to Anyone Stirring Up Trouble

MADRID, May 18.—A fresh revolution has broken out in Lisbon and other Portuguese cities, according to advices reaching here today. Joao Chagas, the new prime minister, who was shot by Senator Freitas while enroute to Lisbon, has died of his wounds, the report said. A dispatch to the Spanish minister of the interior described the situation as "very critical."

The Spanish government is endeavoring to communicate with the commander of the Spanish battleship Espana, supposed to have arrived off Lisbon harbor. If reports of new disturbances are true, he will be instructed to land marines to protect Spaniards and other foreigners.

All dispatches from the Portuguese capital were greatly delayed. There was no official confirmation of the report that Premier Chagas had died of his wounds, but a message sent from Lisbon late last night said he was expected to live but a few hours. He was shot four times and his skull fractured while enroute to Lisbon from Oporto to become the head of the new government. Senator Freitas, his assailant, was killed by gendarmes.

Grave fears for the safety of civilians in the Portuguese capital were expressed by Spanish officials today. The last dispatches from Lisbon said the revolutionary committee has promised immediate execution of persons attempting to stir up trouble.

Riots Put Down
LONDON, May 18.—A Paris news agency dispatch received here this afternoon said that fresh rioting that followed the attempted assassination of the new Portuguese premier has been put down by the Lisbon police. Conditions in Lisbon early today were reported nearly normal.

Across the Sea
I dreamed of Freedom slowly gained
By martyr meekness, patience, faith,
And lo! an athlete grimly stained
With corded muscles battle strained,
Shouting it on the fields of death.

I turn me, awe-struck, from the sight,
Among the clamoring thousands mute;
I only know that God is right,
And that the children of the light
Shall tread the darkness under foot.

I know the pent fire heaves its crust,
That sultry skies the bolt will form
To smite them clear, that Nature must
The balance of her powers adjust,
Though with the earthquake and the storm.

God reigns, and let the earth rejoice!
I bow before His stronger plan,
Dumb are the organs of my choice;
He speaks in battle's stormy voice,
His praise is in the wrath of man.

Yet, surely as He lives, the day
Of peace He promised shall be ours,
To fold the flags of war and lay
His sword and spear to rust away,
And sow its ghastly fields with flowers.

—Whittier.

ICE PACKS COOL FEVER OF JOURNAL ON THIS COACH

Cold weather, repeated administrations of ice and frequent stops failed to hold down the "hot box" on a coach on the Fast Mail on the Milwaukee this morning. The coach, which is added here to train No. 58 in the evening, was attached to the train at Portage. At Kilbourn one of the journal boxes was smoking and at Mauston, the train was delayed a few minutes while a quantity of waste was being packed into the box. At New Lisbon, less than halfway between Portage and La Crosse, the train crew grew disgusted and invaded the railroad ice house. They cooled the box with a peck of cracked ice and stored enough ice on the train to give several applications between New Lisbon and La Crosse.

Delivery Boy Acts Double Murder to Show How He Did it

Police Shocked at Emotionless Slaying of Mother and Child

CHICAGO, May 18.—A gruesome scene was enacted just after dawn today in the home of John L. Copper-smith, where his wife, about to become a mother for a second time, was beaten to death with a hammer, and his two year old son was stabbed to death with a butcher knife, a week or ten days ago.

Russell Patrick, 22 years of age, grocery delivery boy, who has said he committed the dual murder, "because Mrs. Copper-smith called him a liar," re-enacted his alleged killing. The boy gladly agreed to show the police "how he did it." Chief of Police Healy and Captain of Detectives T. D. O'Brien attend as audience.

"My blood ran cold," said O'Brien, after the scene had been staged, "as the boy, without a trace of emotion, and apparently with his mind far from the horror of the thing, clutched the bloody butcher knife in his hand and showed us how he crawled across the woman's body to 'get the baby' because it was yelling 'too much.' I am convinced the boy is not telling the truth about some things; we don't believe Mrs. Copper-smith hit him as he said."

The police say the boy is a sub-normal.

Hank Tumms says the new woman has surely arrived. His wife can't find time between picture shows to darn his socks.

POSTAL AUTHORITIES PROBE CANADIAN CHEMICAL COMPANY

The postal authorities here and at Washington are investigating advertising of the Adelaide Chemical company, of Toronto, Canada, which appeared in the La Crosse Tribune and various newspapers about the country, preparatory to prosecuting the company on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails, if evidence can be found.

This is said to be the scheme of the concern: After the ads had been run in local papers, the postmasters of the cities received letters maintaining that through a mistake the address of the company had been given as the place where the ads were run. For instance, in La Crosse, the ads gave the company's address as La Crosse, and Postmaster O. R. Skaar was requested to send all mail to Toronto. The "copy" handed to the newspapers gave the address of the concern as La Crosse.

SNOW FALLS HERE BUT RAIN SAVES THE FRUIT CROP

Few Flakes Scatter Down Here While St. Paul and as Far South as Winona Get Three Inches

Snow fell in La Crosse early this morning while St. Paul was buried in three inches of snow and ice, and telephone and telegraph communication between La Crosse and the Twin cities was practically cut off.

Quantities of snow fell as far south as Winona, Minn., and for several minutes La Crosse witnessed the May phenomena, while rain fell for several hours. The presence of the rain prevented freezing, and the loss of thousands of dollars in fruit and small vegetables.

Communication with the Twin cities and other points in the northwest, cut off by the storm, were re-established later today.

COUNTY AND CITY MAY GET BERTILLON

When the new board of county supervisors meets for the first time tomorrow, John B. Webber, chief of police, and P. F. Apgar, Bertillon expert, will ask the county to join the city in purchasing a Bertillon system.

No opponent of Chairman R. W. Davis, Onalaska, has appeared. W. E. Barber's "county jail labor" resolution will be re-introduced, with considerable support.

SUBMARINE TRIED TO SINK TRANSYLVANIA PASSENGERS ASSERT

BY WILBUR S. FORREST

United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 18.—The Anchor liner Transylvania, carrying 879 passengers, narrowly escaped the same fate as the Lusitania, according to passengers who arrived here today from Glasgow. A German submarine shot a torpedo at the Transylvania Sunday afternoon, they asserted but the death missile passed forty yards astern.

"I was standing, with two others on the Transylvania's forward deck at about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon," said Walter R. Burston of Kent, who was returning to England from Jerome, Arizona. "One of the other passengers suddenly spied the periscope of a submarine and called our attention to it."

"An instant later there was a flash through the water and we saw the white wake of a torpedo. It passed, as near as I can estimate, about forty yards astern."

"We did not want to alarm the other passengers, but sent word to Captain Black on the bridge. The Transylvania immediately adopted a zigzag course. She continued rushing about in this manner for several hours, careening from side to side in an alarming manner."

Burston was corroborated by Kenneth Douglas, an actor in the "Silk Stocking company," who also arrived here from Glasgow aboard the 6 o'clock train.

So far as could be learned, no other passengers had seen the submarine or torpedo reported by Burston.

"Until they arrived at the Glasgow station yesterday afternoon," Burston said, "most of the Transylvania's passengers firmly believed that the majority of the Lusitania's passengers had been saved."

"Seeing Things" Hold Germans WASHINGTON, May 18.—Neither the British nor the German embassy here would discuss today the story that an attempt was made Sunday to torpedo the Anchor liner Transylvania. Confidentially German officials hinted that the ship's company, nervous over the Lusitania incident had been "seeing things."

water and will be able to catch the fastest ocean greyhound on the surface.

Battle Cruisers Lacking
"One thing that the navy of this country lacks is fast battle cruisers of the type which won great victories recently off the coast of Chili, the Falkland islands, and in the North sea."

Congressman Esch launched into the subject of the army of Uncle Sam as readily as the subject of the navy, over which he is enthused, but he pointed to the defects.

"The United States has a standing army of 86,000 men," he said, "but it has to divert ten or twelve thousand of these to the Philippine islands. We already have 3,000 soldiers at Panama, and will ultimately need between 8,000 and 7,000 there. We have a regiment on the Hawaiian islands, and several companies in Alaska, China and elsewhere. Of course, the most of these are native troops."

18,000 Soldiers Defend Coasts
"These figures bring us to the realization that we have only about 18,000 soldiers for our Atlantic and Pacific coast defenses. We now have a mobile army of about 35,000, and must maintain a large guard along the Mexican border.

"The standing army of the United States is now in a high state of efficiency, and could give a good account of itself under any contingency. The personnel of the army is of high rank, and it is well supplied with clothing, guns and ammunition. The new model Springfield rifle is as fine a weapon as is made today. The United States now has about 700,000 of these on hand."

"The army also is well supplied with a reserve fund of ammunition as well as guns."

"The army is lacking in the field battery arm of the service, and is also lacking in ammunition."

"This would be a serious handicap in time of a sudden declaration of war. The cavalry branch of the army is small, and particularly is it lacking in horses, but the government is now taking steps to remedy by remount stations, where brood animals are maintained."

National Guard Has Big Force

"In addition to the regular army there are 125,000 men connected with the National guard; some states are high in efficiency in this service, and others are low. By the 'Dick militia act' of 1903, the appropriations of several states have been increased, but the reason that many states have not been allowed more for their militia, is because they cannot come up to the necessary requirements."

"Much the same as in the regular army, the National guard is far below the proper efficiency in its cavalry and artillery branches."

"The militia of most states is weak because of seeming lack of interest displayed by the men in their drills and maneuvers. The 'militia pay' bill has been pending in congress for four years and should be adopted. Under it, the men would receive pay for drills, and officers would receive compensation commensurate with the time of their labors."

Congressman Esch talked of every war in which the United States has been engaged.

"We have won every one of our victories with volunteers; from the time of the revolution until the war with Spain," he said, "the United States could call an army of 18,000,000 men, but these never carried guns."

HAROLD MAY IS BEING SUED FOR MIKSCHL DEATH

The suit of Mrs. Ida Mikschl, to recover damages for the death of her husband, killed by a motorcycle ridden by Harold May, opened in circuit court this afternoon.

The $800 suit started by the J. Bartl company against Anton F. Reitzel, who rented a building to the company, was non-suited when no fact for the jury was disclosed. The controversy arose over damage by snow to the roof of the building. The jury was dismissed.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES ALL HER LIFE

But Miss Ayres Got a "Beautiful Complexion" at a Cost of Only $2.00

Nov. 23, 1914.—"All my life my face was covered completely with a mass of pimples, blackheads and blotches. I spent a lot of money on numerous remedies and treatments without success and no relief at all. I tried so many things that I was afraid my case could not be cured. Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap seemed to do me good right from the first. I used two jars of Resinol Ointment and some Resinol Soap, the total cost being only $2.00, and this completely cured my case. My skin is without a blemish and I am the possessor of a beautiful complexion." (Signed) Mabel Ayres, Stone Mountain, Va.

Gouverneur Morris—"Father of the Penny"

AMONG all the framers of the Constitution of the United States none were more adept at constructive statesmanship than the "father of the American decimal system" and originator of the copper cent. The finish, style and arrangement of the Constitution fairly belong to the brilliant and eloquent Morris. From his youth to the hour of his death he was a devoted and dauntless worker for American progress. His unrivaled ability as an orator was known throughout Europe, and his funeral orations on Washington, Clinton and Hamilton are treasured American classics. Gouverneur Morris was an indomitable supporter of the Louisiana Purchase. He it was who rescued LaFayette from prison walls and aided him from his private purse. Personally he was very handsome; his nature was impulsive, but his heart was warm and generous. He loved society, and his hospitality was famous. All his life he drank the creative brews of malt and hops, and who will dare say that it weakened his will power or detracted from his success, his fame, his glory and his might? It was upon the tenets of the Constitution of the U.S.A. that Anheuser-Busch 58 years ago founded their great institution. During these 58 years they have daily brewed from the finest barley and hops beers famous for being alive with natural force and nutriment. Their great brand BUDWEISER, because of its quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, exceeds the sales of any other bottled beer by millions of bottles. BUDWEISER'S popularity grows daily, and 7500 people are daily employed to keep pace with the public demand.

THIS COP SHOULD PLAY FOOTBALL

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 18.—Patrolman Prohaska attempted to stop a speeding automobile early yesterday and when his command was ignored, he made a flying tackle of the rear of the tonneau. He was dragged half a block. The five occupants leaped and the driverless car crashed into a lamp post, burying him under the wreckage. He was only slightly injured and after a long chase arrested the driver. His prisoner confessed that the car was stolen and gave the names of his four companions. The police are looking for them.

HEALTH
EXTENSION DIVISION
HEALTH INSTRUCTION BUREAU
R. E. SHARPES, M.D., DIRECTOR

IS CONSUMPTIVE DANGEROUS

A former tuberculosis sanatorium patient, who was not completely cured, is working in a butcher shop in a Wisconsin village. I am asked if he should be permitted to continue in such employment.

In response to the query I cannot answer definitely. Knowing neither the man nor his habits, I cannot judge in this specific instance. Nor is the answer simple, as more than one consideration is involved. While most of the meat handled by him is rendered absolutely safe by cooking, some is eaten raw.

If the man is careful, I do not think the danger to the public is so very great. If he is careless, of course it is. I hesitate to say anything which might be construed as making light of the danger of this terrible disease. Nevertheless, we must never lose sight of the fact that tuberculosis is not a terribly contagious disease and that it usually requires prolonged and repeated doses of germs to overwhelm a new victim. Furthermore, we must not forget that there are thousands of unknown consumptives in Wisconsin and that the danger from them is greater than from the known ones.

Our convalescent patients must, of necessity, either be taken care of or take care of themselves. The public is not, as yet, prepared to support all dangerous consumptives. We must not make it difficult for them to support themselves therefore.

There is more than a sentimental reason for this. Poverty stricken consumptives are more dangerous than those in comfortable circumstances. Few of us who have an abundance of hot running water and plenty of coal realize how difficult it really is to be cleanly in the absence of these commodities. An overworked, overexhausted, exhausted by his efforts to provide himself and his family with the means of keeping bodies and souls together, is not likely to be nearly so scrupulous of other people's safety as the patient who has the leisure to consider others.

Every well individual ought to read the article written by William Garrott Brown in the Atlantic Monthly of June, 1914, and reprinted by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association in its January, 1915 "Crusader". The author, himself a consumptive, and a very gifted writer, has set forth under the title "Some confessions of a 'T. B.'," a

SON OF DIETZ ILL IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 18.—Exhausted from a long tramp from the middle west to save his father, Leslie Dietz, son of John F. Dietz of Wisconsin, "hero of Cameron Dam," toppled over and fell down the steps leading down Washington Heights early yesterday. He was found by pedestrians and removed to a hospital, where it was said he may not recover. Dietz set out for Washington to ask President Wilson to pardon his aged father, who was sentenced to prison for life, following his famous battle against the big lumber corporations. He ran out of funds, hospital attendants said, and had been walking for several days, half starved.

"Have a cigar," said the young man as he handed out a fine perfecto. "Thank you," said the older one. "I was about to ask for your daughter's hand," continued the benefactor, offering a light. "Oh, well," said the diplomatic parent, enjoying the fine aroma of his gift, "you know she has two hands."

Larry Lajoie was the croke hanger yesterday. He nipped a scratch single thereby preventing "Death Valley" Jim Scott from attaining a no hit game. The Sox won, anyway. Gavy Crabs continued his weird home run knocking way. Even his mates are catching the infection! The Phils registered three circuit clouts of Hub Perdue.

Chief Bender was handed another trimming yesterday. Could it be that Mr. Mack was a pretty wise guy after all? Ed Walsh is essaying another comeback and critics say he really has the old hop. If he has Chicago fans are going to come mighty close to seeing some of the world's series combats.

The weather man beat the mag-nates in six cities yesterday. Walter Johnson won another game—but he had to go to St. Louis to do it.

Steve Evans may be a comedian, but Chief Johnson cannot see it. The redoubtable Steve got a brace of triples off him yesterday. Johnny Farrell, Tucker's diminutive second sacker, gathered five hits out of five up and Fritz Swancina and Bender each got four out of five up in the Chicago-Baltimore game.

HERE'S A WAR PROBLEM

MADISON, Wis., May 18.—President Wilson is not the only one who is having his troubles settling war problems.

An application was received by the industrial commission from Mrs. Louise Blank of Sheboygan, for compensation. Her husband, John Blank was killed by a fellow workman, William Meyer, while employed by J. M. Kohler and Sons of Sheboygan following an argument over the European war. The contention of the widow's attorney is that Blank was killed while in the discharge of his duty for the Kohler company.

Wise men are as slow about giving advice as fools are about taking it.

BELL LEADS BEARS
TO VICTORY OVER
LANESBORO MONDAY

Bear Brands Beat Minnesotans in Syttende Mai Celebration; Bell Works Well on Slab

Playing rings around the Lanesboro bunch until the eighth inning, Wagner's Bear Brands yesterday defeated the Minnesota team, 7 to 5, in the Syttende Mai celebration there. In the eighth, the Lanesboro men pushed over three runs almost evening the score, Bell weakening temporarily. He tightened, however, in the ninth and held the side scoreless. Evenson succeeded Bothum in the box for Lanesboro in the eighth. Two hits by the Bears in the ninth failed to bring in any more scores for the La Crosse team.

Bell struck out eight men as against five by Bothum and two by Evenson. Bothum was wild, passing five men in his seven innings on the slab. The score:

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Reports that the steamer Karlsruhe had arrived at Norfolk or was putting in through the capes was definitely denied in a telegram received here from Norfolk at 11:38 a. m. yesterday.

No details were given but it was believed the case was one of mistaken identity, a three-stacker having been reported off Old Point which was supposed to be the German craft.

The Karlsruhe is a four-stacker.

Lincoln School
Beats Washburn
In Indoor Game

Another indoor baseball game of the goose-pimply variety was pulled off yesterday on the central fire station lot, when the Lincoln school boys handed defeat to the Washburn youngsters in a game fraught with excitement and close play. The score at the end of the game stood 9 to 7 in favor of the Division street boys.

Schubert and Przywoski composed the winning battery. Schubert's offerings being just a trifle more elusive than those of Peterson for the Washburn lads. Scheel caught for Washburn.

THE GOOD JUDGE SEES AN OLD GROUCH.

IT'S just possible that a lone man or two hasn't heard that a little of the Real Tobacco Chew gives more satisfaction than a big wad of the old kind. But they switch over quick when they learn about it—and then they tell their friends about the merits of the Real Tobacco Chew.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!! W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED. RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED!

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.

HEAVY LOSSES FOR GERMANS WHEN DRIVEN FROM YSER

Shells Slaughter 2,000 when They Make Last Stand Paris War Office Declares

PARIS, May 18.—Two thousand Germans were slaughtered by shell fire when the Teutons made their last stand on the west bank of the Yser, according to official dispatches to the war office today.

The Germans counter-attacked with great daring, but were pressed back steadily while shrapnel mowed down their ranks.

Heavy artillery of the allies demolished several bridges over the Yser.

Those that remained were jammed with retreating Germans, attempting to carry off some of their wounded officers.

During last night the Germans made several attempts to cross the canal by surprise. From sunset until sunrise the French illumined the whole district with "white light" bombs and every body of the enemy that approached the canal was splattered with shrapnel. The Germans abandoned the attempt at daylight.

From Notre Dame de Lorette south to Arras the opposing artillerymen are continuing the duel begun Sunday night.

PLANS TO GUARD YOUTH WILL BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

Juvenile Protective Committee to Map Out a Campaign to Charities' Directors

Complete plans for operations soon to be started by the juvenile protective committee of the Associated Charities, will be laid before the board of directors at their monthly meeting tonight by Rev. William Everett Johnson, president.

The report of the committee, of which Rev. Johnson is the head, was not made public today, but it is expected to be in line with recommendations made a month ago.

It was then suggested that La Crosse dance-halls be strictly censored and co-operation given to city and county officials in an endeavor to determine the causes of juvenile delinquency here.

Miss Nadia Thomas, general secretary of the Associated Charities, will leave the city Friday to be gone one month. She will take a charity organization summer course at the Russell Sage foundation in New York city.

Chosen Philharmonic President at Meeting Which Closed Successful 1914-15 Season

Leigh Toland was elected president of the La Crosse Philharmonic society at the closing meeting of the organization held Sunday afternoon. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Ole Tollefson; secretary and treasurer, Ewald Deters; director, F. W. Rawstron; librarian, Mrs. F. W. Rawstron.

The board of directors chosen consists of the above named officers and Miss Fay Shuman, Frank Gunther, Max Streck, Rudolph Berg and Mrs. Leigh Toland.

That the second season of the society, closed at the meeting, was the most successful ever enjoyed by any similar organization in La Crosse, was gathered from the general tone of the meeting. Plans to make the society a closed organization next season were adopted. Four concerts are planned for next season, besides possibly several recitals at the Majestic. It is planned to appear at the playhouse at least one a month. Finances of the society were reported in a sound condition.

A good many statesmen are built on the bungalow style of architecture—no attic to speak of.

RUSS DECLARE FOE DRIVEN BACK FROM CAPTURED TOWN

Austro-German Offensive North of Przemyśl Is Again Halted Petrograd Declares

PETROGRAD, May 18.—The Austro-Germans have again been halted in their advance on Przemyśl according to dispatches received here today. The enemies' losses in infantry engagements twenty miles north of the fortress were described in semi-official dispatches as exceptionally heavy.

The war office announced today that the Russians moving southward for an invasion of Bukovina have forced a crossing of the river Pruth near Kolomea.

"Our impetuous offensive drove the enemy back ten versts (6.7 miles) on the Pruth," said the official statement. "After repulsing repeated enemy attacks, we crossed the river."

THREE ZEPPELINS LOST TO GERMANY

Are Utterly Destroyed in France and Belgium and Fourth Is Reported Damaged and Adrift

LONDON, May 18.—Three of the Zeppelin monsters counted upon for the great German air raid on London, have been utterly destroyed and a fourth so badly damaged that it is doubtful if it reaches land, according to special dispatches received here today.

Besides the Zeppelin reported to have been brought down near Dunkirk, following its attack on Calais early yesterday, a second dirigible was destroyed by fire from a French torpedo boat and fell into the channel, the correspondent of the Daily News reported today. Its crew is thought to have been drowned.

A third Zeppelin fell in the Gierlesch woods in Belgium and was so badly wrecked it was dismantled. Rotterdam dispatches reported. No additional reports have reached the admiralty concerning the Zeppelin damaged by British aviators above the channel yesterday and last sighted drifting helplessly.

BERLIN TAGEBLATT FINDS LAW TO FIT LUSITANIA CASE

BERLIN, via wireless to Sayville, L. I., May 18.—Commenting on the admiralty's official statement that an internal explosion of ammunition caused the Lusitania to sink rapidly, the Berlin Tageblatt said that section 8 of an American law enacted in 1882 fitted the case of the Lusitania exactly.

This law, according to the Tageblatt, provides one year's imprisonment and a fine for every captain carrying high explosives or gunpowder aboard passenger ships. The Tageblatt said this should show clearly where responsibility for the loss of life in the Lusitania disaster rests.

LA CROSSE MAN HAS DEADLY REPTILES

Two Gila monsters arrived here yesterday from Arizona. They were shipped to Adolph Bauch, 216 Summer street, and are said to be the only reptiles of the kind ever seen in La Crosse.

They are about twelve inches in length, are bright orange in color, with black markings. They are said to be among the most deadly reptiles of North America, and are natives of Arizona, New Mexico and other southern desert states. They are sluggish in their movements, and are somewhat slow to attack, but, like a bulldog, they take a grip on their victims which cannot be broken, and slowly pump the venom through their grooved teeth.

These interesting reptiles will be on exhibition in the windows of the Boyer-Furber Furniture company.

LONDON STRIKERS WANT WAR BONUS

BERLIN ADMITS RETIRING FROM CANAL AT YPRES

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville, L. I., May 18.—The war office has admitted that the Germans have been forced to retire from the west bank of the canal north of Ypres, near Heitsas and Steenstraete. North of Arras, the French have thus far been repulsed with heavy losses. The Austro-German advance on Przemyśl is gradually tightening the lines about the Galician fortress.

Russian attacks at several points in Poland and Galicia have been repulsed.

PETROGRAD, May 18.—A great battle is developing near the fortress of Przemyśl, it was semi-officially stated today. The enemy has appeared in large force on both Russian flanks.

The Russian center is falling back upon Przemyśl. The Germans are attacking with great vigor north of Przemyśl, but have been unable to make any impression on the Russian lines.

Locality Without Microbes. Not a microbe exists in mountain air above the height of 5,000 feet

BULL KILLS STOCKMAN

RACINE, Wis., May 18.—Dan C. Worthington of Corliss, prominent stock raiser and member of the county board for years, was instantly killed Sunday afternoon while out in the pasture. When found by his wife he was dead and it developed that his neck was broken. It is surmised that he was struck by a bull belonging to a neighbor, which had broken through the fence.
